

Greetings!

We are contacting you because of your interest in field of health and patient advocacy and hope you will consider participating in the first National Health and Patient Advocate Survey 2015. It is our hope that surveying this market annually will help to create some insights as a baseline for people doing this work and help us all understand how and where the field may be growing.

Reasons to Participate:

- You will be contributing to the scant information about this field, advocates and the profession
- You will help establish a benchmark of how advocacy practices are working
- You will receive a free copy of the survey results, which may give you insight into your own business practices

Health and Patient Advocacy Organizations Supporters

A group of organizations interested in health and patient advocacy have joined together to survey people working in this emerging field to understand who is undertaking this work. The following organizations are working together on this survey to help advance the profession:

- Alliance of Professional Health Advocates (APHA)
- National Association of Health Care Advocacy Consultants (NAHAC)
- Professional Patient Advocate Institute (PPAI)
- Washington State Health Advocacy Association (WASHAA)

Participation is Easy!

Just follow the link to register your anonymous answers by going to:

You can also forward this link to others you think would benefit from participating.

Deadline for Participation

The deadline to participate is October 25, 2015. Results will be available mid-November and will be provided to participants who opt-in with an email address after completing the anonymous survey.

If you have any questions, you can contact the survey organizers, Robin Shapiro at robin.shapiro@washaa.org or Trisha Torrey trisha@aphadvocates.org.

Sincerely,

Robin Shapiro
